THE MONMOUTH PARK RACES.

What Is Being Done for the Great Meeting-List of Horses at "the Branch."

Long Branch, June 27, 1874. Preparations for the meeting at Monmouth Park are going on with great rapidity. All the promi-nent stables are already on the ground. Prominent among them are those of Mr. McGrath. the owner of the lamous Tom Bowling; Mr. Sanford, Dr. Weldon, Mr. Belmont, Mr. Chamberlin, Mr. Littell, Mr. Lorillard, and some from others are expected next week. Mr. McGrath's stables arrived on Sunday morning. On the park a force of painters, carpenters and track repairers are very busy, the carpenters taking down the fences, which have enclosed the grand stand since last meeting, and they are also employed in doing some repairs on the grand stand itself. The painters are busy painting the stands and booths. The track is in splendid condition, thanks to the trackmen who have been engaged on it for the past two weeks. There are about 120 horses here at present. Among the most noted are Mr. Chamberlin's Survivor and Mary Contestant, Mr. Little's Fellowcraft and Wizard, Mr. McGrath has Tom Bowling, who will create a sensation before the meeting is over. It will be remembered that he made the fastest time on record, but at this meeting he will have to compete with many iamous horses, and it is expected that there will be some fast time. McGrath has also Jury, Aaron Pennington, Calvin and some pete with many iamous horses, and it is expected that there will be some fast time. McGrath has also Jury, Aaron Pennington, Calvin and some others horses not so famous. John Coffee has Donnybrook and Nettle Norcon. Mr. Lorillard's horses are famous for great speed, and they can show to the front. Among these may be noted Cariboo, Stamford and Village Blacksmith.

The meeting, from present indications, promises to be one of the most successful that has been held. As your readers know, the meeting begins on the 4th of July, when it is expected there will be an immense attendance. There will be a large gathering on the 7th also, when Tom Bowling, Preakness and, probably, Monarchist will come together for the Monmouth Cup. The first race on the opening day will be the Long Branch national steeple chase, for all ages, nearly three miles, for a purse of $700; $550 to the first, $100 to the second and $50 to the third horse. This race is likely to bring good horses. The second race, ilkewise open to all ages, or a purse of $300. The second and third horses to get entrance money. Third on the card is a purse race for $500, same conditions as the one before. The event of the day will be the race for the Jersey Derby Stakes, open to colts and fillies. The entries comprise Lorillard's Saxon, Morris' Battle Axe and Regardless, Cottrill's First Chance and Mr. Belmont's Steel Eyes, Scratch and King Amadeus; also Botany Bay, Mr. Chamberlin's Hoaxer and Carlina. The second day's sport opens with the Hopefus Stakes for two-year-olds, which has twenty-four nominations, and probably about ten will come to the scratch. The stakes are valuable. Chamberlin and Sanford have entered some of their horses for this race. The next race will be a two-mile heat for a purse of $750, and is likely to be a close context. The event of the day—we may almost say the event of the meeting—will be the race for the Monmouth Cup. This event will be a two-mile heat for a purse of $750, and is likely to be a close context. LANCASTER, June 26, 1874. The second day of the Lancaster races was a perfect success. The day broke bright and clear and full of catoric, but nours before the gates were open the heavens were full of heavy, scurrying clouds, which obscured the sun and absorbed the rays darted so flercely earthward, and just at the most opportune moment an ecstatic little shower boured down, cooling and rarefying the atmosphere and preparing the track admirably. A RELUCTANT BONAPARTE. [From the London Daily News.]

Cardinal Bonaparte has firmly declined to use his influence at the Vatican in favor of a Bonapartist restoration. Cardinal Chigi and Cardinal partial restoration. Cardinal Chigi and Cardinal Guibert have been questioned by the Pope on the probabilities of a Bonapartiat restoration and the real condition and sentiments of the French nation. Cardinal Guibert declared that all depended on the energy displayed by Marshal MacMahon. The Pope observed that Marshal MacMahon was not master of the situation. The French representative here is said to be indignant at these open intrigues. SARA TOGA ROWING ASSOCIATION

A CARDINAL'S WEALTH.

[Rome correspondence of London Post.]
Another of the recently created Cardinals has proved by his demise that the honors of the sacred irple were conferred upon him too late to be enjoyed. Cardinal Falcinelli, late Nuncio at Vienna. died here three days ago, and his funeral obsequies were performed this morning in the church of Santa Maria in Trastevere, of which he was titular. Before undertaking the diplomatic career, in which he followed the agreeable traditions of the Consalvi school, Mgr. Falcinelli belonged to the Benedictine Order, and was Abbot of St. Paul's Benedictine Order, and was Abbot of St. Paul's extra muros in 1850. Pius IX. appointed him to the See of Foril, and afterwards converted him into a Nuncio. The late Cardinal has left the Pope heir to his property, which is valued at about $50,000 scudi (£10,000), including the precious jewels which were presented to him at Rio Janeiro. But it is expected that this bequest has only been made in trust and that the Cardinal before his decease confidentially informed the Pope of his real intentions. This proceeding was of course adopted in order to save his real heirs and legatees from paying the tax of succession, which in Italy is of a calibre which would startle people only used to English legacy duty.

A NEWSPAPER FROM THE ARK.

Mount Ararat has been encroached upon by journalistic enterprise, and a newspaper, Whifs from ararat, has been established by the American pilgrims at the very foot of the mountain. The paper contains some curious and interesting local Armenian villages, varying from £2 to £16, and discusses the peasant notion that the world rests on a large ox, which, being irritated by a fly, tosses its head and thus causes earthquakes, and the belief of the natives in the neighborhood of the Mount that impassable barriers surround Ararat to prevent its being desecrated by mortal feet, while angels keep quard on the summit lest one piece of the indestructible wood of the ark should be borne away. opics, quotes the price of girls as wives in the

THE CURS.

Thirty Mad Dogs Killed This Month.

Failure of Prussic Acid-The Club vs. Poison and Water.

EIGHT HUNDRED SLAIN.

Mr. Marriott Thinks There Are 12,000 Yet to Kill.

Some of our pretenders to special wisdom tell is that canine rables is as prevalent in January as in June, and that we have no more to appre-hend from hydrophobia in the season when the dogstar rages than when the thermometer ranges within a few degrees of zero. It is true the columns of the HERALD occasionally record fearful cases of the incurable disease in the depth of winter, such as that of the late popular, accomplished and talented actress, Ada Clare, who perished from the poison communicated from a pet lap dog kept where her business brought her. Hardly a winter week passes that does not bring the record of mad dogs killed in New York or one of the adjacent cities, but even this fearful showing will not compare with the authentic reports of similar cases during this the dist summer month. Not reckon-ing the fatal cases of Dr. Francis Butler and Mr. McCormick, who both received the death poison in May, though the effects were developed in this month, there have been reported thirty-two rabid animals killed by the police down to and including yesterday. On the 23d the number killed reached five, and yesterday swelled up a list of eight. The cases have been spread all over the city, as well in Fifth ave-nue as in Jackson street, and they reached from the neighborhood of the Battery to 167th street, Morrisania. This startling exhibit shows most conclusively that the ordinance condemning vagrant dogs to death and directing that all dogs in rant dogs to death and directing that all dogs in the streets shall be so muzzled as to protect the public from the danger of being bitten while pursuing their avocations in the public thoroughfare, was not a day too soon enacted and cannot be too rigidly enforced. Several of the reports from the police distinctly state that the rabid dogs had bitten persons—mainly children—before being slain. No doubt many others of the curs where deaths are recorded had bitten persons whose names were not reported. It is also probable that rabid dogs have, within the month, been dispatched by their owners or others not attached to the police free. The list which is given below from the police returns gives a tearnal exhibition of Dangen from hyphophomia.

The following last shows the number of mad dogs

An Alleged Remedy for Hydrophobia. A correspondent on Staten Island writes that an infallible remedy for hydrophobia in man or beast is found in elecampane root. He says that the first dose for a person is one and a half ounces, well bruised, then boiled in a pint of new milk until it is reduced one-half, and then taken at one dose. Fasting is recommended for several hours. The second dose, consisting of two ounces, may be administered during twelve hours, while the last may be taken on an alternate day.

Kill All the Dogs.

June 27, 1874. TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-I see by the HERALD to-day that a mad dog was killed after biting a little girl. Two were killed yesterday. About every day one or more are killed. I also see that the dogs are to be killed by killed. I also see that the dogs are to be killed by men appointed for that purpose. How are we to know that they will be killed? A citizen sees a dog—before he can find the executioner the dog is gone. Who are these men? Where are they to be found? Would it not have been better for the police to have done this? Then every citizen could see whether they attended to the duty. What is wanted is a general dog law. A person is just as liable to get bitten in any other place as New York city. We don't want to read of some one being bitten almost daily somewhere. We want them all killed that are not taken care of, and we want to be sure it is done.

Mad Dogs.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD:-Through your columns will you please put the people on their guard against the innumerable wretched curs to be found running about unmuzzled on Madison avenue, from Forty-second strees up to Yorkville? Returning from church on Sunup to Yorkville? Returning from church on Sunday evening I was set upon by two wretched tykes from a shanty at the corner of Seventy-sixth street and Madison avenues. I lortunately escaped without a bite, but much alarmed. Surely our white gloved dandles of constables, whose only occupation in this locality seems to be in playing a kind of pitch and toss game with their locusts, might remedy this dangerous and crying nuisance, and rid this beautiful locality of the dogs from these shautes if their occupants are permitted to remain. Yours, &c., A MOTHER OF A FAMILY. NEW YORK, June 27, 1874.

Wasted Sympathy.

To the Editor of the Herald:—
To relieve the minds of compassionate people who believe that the poor dogs at the pound undergo prolonged and agonizing death struggles, let it be understood that the characteristic process of asphyxiation, conducted by scientific memover there, throws the animal into a state of canine there, throws the animal into a state of canine ecstacy as soon as he is fairly under the inducate of the fatal gas, and all his "muscular activity," instead of resulting from pain and distress, in an expension of the painting gases ether mechanically or morally administered, experience the most delicious sensations.
